

This is a detailed topographic map of a region in Italy, specifically the area around Conza Andretta Cairano. The map features contour lines indicating elevation, with numerous numerical values such as 427.0, 432.1, 447.8, and 400.2. A prominent river, the Ofanto, flows through the lower right portion of the map. A red rectangular box highlights a specific area of interest, which appears to be a railway line or a major road. The map also shows various buildings, including a station labeled 'Stazione di Conza Andretta Cairano', and other geographical features like 'Masseria Bellino' and 'Fiume'. The overall terrain is hilly, with contour lines showing a general downward slope from the top left towards the bottom right.

An aerial photograph of a road winding through a landscape with trees and fields. A red rectangular bounding box highlights a specific section of the road, which appears to be a straight stretch. The surrounding area includes green fields, some buildings, and a mix of green and yellow trees, suggesting an autumn setting.
